From the Alumni President . . .

To us alumni, Bates College means many things. It means the campus and buildings in Lewiston, the friendship and inspiration of favorite professors, the hard work as well as the carefree episodes of undergraduate life. But most of all, it means classmates and college mates, now graduates of Bates and alumni of the college.

In this issue of the Bulletin, the Alumni Association has tried to give you a convenient listing of your fellow alumni.

The publication of this volume has been made possible by help from the College. The Association and Bates are jointly presenting it to you.

The stranger will find here merely names—6000 of them. To you these names represent friends, and we hope that this volume will help you keep in touch with these friends who will always be an essential part of your Bates College.

Irving H. Mabee, '42 President, Alumni Association of Bates College

From the Alumni Secretary . . .

We of the Alumni Office thank the Association and Bates College for making it possible for us to perform the service which this publication will bring to alumni.

It has been a gargantuan task to prepare the lists that you will find on the following pages of this book. Mrs. Jessie Gerrish, staff member of the Alumni Office, has devoted the greater part of the past eight months to this meticulous work. We appreciate the devotion and skill which she has brought to this task. Others who have given so generously of their time and efforts to produce this book as free from error as is humanly possible are: Mrs. M. Melva Gilpatric, Mrs. Edna B. Keene, and Miss Bernadette Soucy.

Within this book you will find three listings of alumni. The first is by classes. Here you will find all of your living classmates, giving their home addresses. Because of the wide diversity of occupations into which Bates people have entered they have been reduced to a number of basic occupations under which each Bates person has been classified. On page 14 you will find a complete list of these basic occupations and the symbol used to designate these occupations beside alumni names.

The second list section contains a geographical listing of all living alumni. Here you can find the names of Bates men and women living within your own geographical area. When travelling you will find this section particularly helpful in locating fellow alumni along your route. In this list you will find the names of married women mentioned only once—by married names.

Finally, a third section contains the names of all alumni arranged alphabetically. Here you will find a complete list of all Bates alumni both living and deceased. Married women are listed with both married and maiden names. If you want to find a graduate's address, but do not know his class, you can quickly find his class here and turn to the class listing for his address.

To make the records complete there are separate listings of honorary and advanced degree recipients, and of the address changes that were reported to us after the original listing was prepared for the printer and therefore beyond the correction stage. These address changes are arranged by classes for your greater ease in checking.

As is inevitably the case with an organization as large as ours, some alumni have become lost over the years. If the word "unknown" appears after a name in place of the address then this alumnus is lost. Should you know the present address of any of our lost sheep please assist your Alumni Office by letting as know that new address.

Office by letting us know that new address.

With so detailed a job as we have done it is impossible to avoid errors. For these we ask your indulgence, but will you please call them to our attention and promptly send to the Alumni Office any further changes of address.

May you find this publication a valuable friend on your desk or in your bookcase.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF BATES COLLEGE

British and European universities have no comparable counterpart to the organized alumni body as known in the United States and Canada. The gregarious American college graduate with nostalgic memories of campus days began early to develop the groupings that have brought so much strength and support to higher education.

The first Bates alumni group was the organization of the first class, which met on August 3, 1867, three days after Commencement, in Parker Hall, to prepare a constitution, to elect officers, and to adjourn to meet in reunion in 1870.

On June 30, 1871, when five classes, or a total of 47, had received their diplomas, the Alumni Association of Bates College was set up. Three years later, March 4, 1874, the State granted it a charter of incorporation which was adopted on June 18.

An 1868 legislative act amending the College charter gave to the Association as a right and a privilege, the selection each year of two of its members for places on the Trustee Board of Overseers. The first nominations were to be made in 1872, with the election coming a year later.

The first local association was the Boston Association founded in 1884 by male graduates; women were admitted in 1890. The charter date of the second club is that of New York—1896. There are now some fifty branches scattered all over the United States, with one in Hawaii.

The year 1920 marked a change of pace, both for the College and for the Association. The nation was fast recovering from the dislocations and extreme inflation accompanying World War I. A new Bates president was sitting in Roger Williams Hall. The Alumni Council was set up on June 22, 1920. Authority was given to it to publish a magazine to be known as THE ALUMNUS, the first of which appeared in March 1921. A College administrative officer was delegated to serve part time as Alumni Secretary.

From the beginning, the Association regarded itself as much more than a continuing fellowship of graduates. Even when its numbers were small and its income little, it pledged $10,000 to meet the conditions of the second Benjamin E. Bates gift. This was in 1886. From that time until now, it has backed presidents and trustees in their efforts to make stronger the funds and facilities of the institution, and the faculty in its educational endeavors.

In 1917, an Alumni Loyalty Fund was begun, which, except for two major interruptions—that of the Million Dollar Gymnasium Fund in the twenties and the Library-Commons Fund in the forties—has year by year made it possible for the Association to be of substantial financial assistance. In the last fund year, 58.7% of the graduates contributed $38,000. In percentage of givers, they were topped only by Dartmouth, Princeton, and Mount Holyoke.

A catalog of Association projects other than financial would run the whole range of campus and alumni interests. Individuals and committees have stimulated athletics, music, and religious life. The library and museum collections have been augmented; prospective student work has been forwarded; a graduate placement program was encouraged; a Career Conference has been established; College publicity has been promoted; teaching departments have been given needed supplies and equipment. The first "Back-to-Bates" celebration took place in 1920. In 1922, a committee from the Alumni Council made representations to the Board of Trustees which resulted in dancing being permitted on the campus, thus depriving the students of their current "co-educational dining" issue.

With its annual meeting an integral part of Commencement, the Association naturally has been concerned with the kind of program presented. As early as the 90's, complaints arose about its own long, stuffy literary and oratorical exercises. In the early 20's, an Alumni Costume Parade and Carnival, started in 1917 and interrupted by the War, became a regular feature. Another forward step was taken in 1946 when the traditional post Commencement dinner gave way to the Alumni Luncheon sponsored by the Association and made up largely of reunion classes.

1944 marked another pivotal date in Association annals. The Alumni Secretaryship was made a full-time position. THE ALUMNUS, then changed in format and content, does not suffer in comparison with the best in the country. The Alumni Fund developed into a strong financial resource of the institution. The policies and programs of the Association became more closely integrated with those of the College administration.

Since the ten members of the class of 1867 received their diplomas from founder President Oren Burbank Cheney, close to 6,900 bachelors have qualified for membership in the Alumni Association of Bates College. Many graduates, among them prominent and honored names, have served as its officers, as trustees, and committee members. To them and to those they represented, became personally meaningful, the agreement of June 1871, "desirous of sustaining the friendly relations formed—and of subserving in the highest degree practicable the interests of the College, we do form ourselves into an Association."

THE ALMA MATER

Here's to Bates, our Alma Mater dear,
Proudest and fairest of her peers.
We pledge to her our loyalty,
Our faith, and our honor through the years,
Long may her praises resound
Long may her sons exalt her name.
May her glory shine while time endures.
Here's to our Alma Mater's fame.

We have seen her battles bravely fought
Prowess, and pluck upon the field
We have known defeat and victory;
Bates men were never known to yield.
Here's to the Garnet—Hurrah!
Here's to the pluck that shall not fail,
To our Bates and all she means to us,
Here's to our Alma Mater—Hail!
